

DAVE OHMS

s-o-a-r

The man behind the sound

Dave Ohms is certainly no stranger to electronic music composition. His passion arose from the glory days of the progressive house and techno scene of the late 90's onwards. Following his widely praised single 'Eclipse' that saw international support of Sasha, Nick Warren, Hernan Cattaneo, Maceo Plex, and Gui Boratto - Dave Ohms has made quite an impression in a very short period of time on the progressive house landscape. 'State Of Euphoria' is a hazy record - swirls of synth layers weaving an intricate pattern with the disjointed rhythms. With these strong releases Dave has attracted serious attention in South America subsequently set up his first release with the widely acclaimed TIMELESS label in Brazil.

Timeless Moment released the thriving underground progressive single "Ellusions" - Dave Ohms, with a KILLER remix by legendary Glenn Morrison. The moment you first hear "Ellusions" you will notice its powerful dance floor potential, a track with strong tribal house grooves, huge Trance stabs and dark Progressive atmospheres. With a hypnotic percussive work and melodic progression, "Ellusions" will be a nine minute long journey that will groove your body and storm your psyche!

Continuing onwards from his last 'Ellusions' EP, Dave Ohms drops the crisp intergalactic progressive house record 'Communications'. Beginning with a stirring low end depth, a track supported by Nick Warren, B Traits (BBC Radio 1), Guy J, and Paul Oakenfold, the release takes in several cuts which reinforce the Canadian's skill for creating emotional peak time dancefloor weapons.

With a torrent of fantastic records as of late and with overwhelmingly positive reviews on Progressive Astronaut and Timeless Moments, he continues to establish Dave Ohms' place in the international progressive house scene. His sound is clearly resonating with his musical friends, fans and peers.
